For 21 seasons, Mark Attanasio has served as chairman and principal owner of the Milwaukee Brewers. Under his leadership, the Brewers have become one of the National League's most consistently competitive franchises, reaching the postseason six times in the past eight seasons and ranking among MLB's leaders in wins over the past two decades. He has made major investments in the team's future, including long-term commitments to keep the club in Milwaukee, upgrades to American Family Field, and continued development of the organization's player pipeline.

Beyond the field, Attanasio has focused on delivering a strong fan experience and making a meaningful impact in the community through the Brewers Community Foundation, which has generated more than $60 million for Wisconsin nonprofits over the past decade. An accomplished investment executive, he is a managing partner of Crescent Capital Group, serves in leadership roles across Major League Baseball and nonprofit organizations, and holds degrees from Brown University and Columbia Law School.
